EXAMPLE

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Retail Shares of the U.S. Treasury Portfolio with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Retail Shares of the U.S. Treasury Portfolio for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Retail Shares of the U.S. Treasury Portfolio's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
U.S. Treasury Portfolio – Retail Shares:	$122	$381	$660	$1,455

:Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund seeks to maintain investment portfolios with a dollar-weighted average maturity of 60 days or less, to value its investment portfolios at amortized cost and maintain a net asset value of $1.00 per share. The U.S. Treasury Portfolio seeks to achieve its objective by investing only in obligations backed by the full faith and credit of the United States government with maturities of 397 days or less and repurchase agreements which are collateralized by such obligations calling for resale in 397 days or less. Under normal circumstances the Portfolio will invest all of its net assets, plus borrowings for investment purposes, in obligations issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. The Fund will provide shareholders with at least 60 days' prior notice of any change in this policy.

The Fund's investment manager considers the following factors when buying and selling securities for the Portfolio: (i) the availability of cash, (ii) redemption requests, (iii) yield management, and (iv) credit management. Yield management is where the investment manager considers the overall yield of the Fund and how an individual purchase would impact the yield of the Fund, against the backdrop of the Fund's overall investment objective. Credit management is where the investment manager considers the overall credit quality of the Fund and how an individual purchase would impact the credit quality of the Fund, against the backdrop of the Fund's overall investment objective.

:Principal Risks

- Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the Fund.
- The value of the Fund's shares and the securities held by the Fund can each decline in value.
- The amount of income the Fund generates will vary with changes in prevailing interest rates.
- An investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (the "FDIC") or any other governmental agency.
- The U.S. Treasury Portfolio's investment policy of only investing in U.S. Treasury obligations and other obligations that are issued or guaranteed by the United States Government (including repurchase agreements), while minimizing risk of loss, may produce a lower yield than a policy of investing in other types of instruments.

Investment Manager: Reich & Tang Asset Management, LLC (the “Manager”) is the Portfolio’s investment manager.

: Purchase and Sale of Fund Shares

You may purchase, exchange or redeem U.S. Treasury Portfolio Retail Shares on any business day by written request via mail (Daily Income Fund, c/o Reich & Tang, 1411 Broadway – 28th Floor, New York, NY 10018), by bank wire, by electronic funds transfer or through a financial intermediary. The minimum initial investment amount is $5,000 and the minimum amount for subsequent investments is $100.

: Tax Information

The Portfolio’s distributions are taxable as ordinary income, except when your investment is through an IRA, 401(k) plan or other tax-advantaged plan.

: Payments to Broker-Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase the Portfolio through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank or financial advisor), the Portfolio and/or its Manager may pay the intermediary for the sale of Portfolio shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other financial intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Portfolio over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary’s website for more information.
